Digital Learning Tools & Student Privacy

What tools does my child use, and why?
Our teachers use a set of approved learning programs for reading, math, science and other subjects. These tools support classroom lessons and do not replace them.

How is my child's information protected?
Friendship reviews every program before it reaches the classroom. Approved programs may use your child's information, such as their name, grade, school email and classwork, only to support learning. It is never sold or used for advertising. Federal and DC law, including COPPA, FERPA and DC's Protecting Students Digital Privacy Act, back these protections. Under federal guidance, Friendship gives consent on parents' behalf for tools used only for school.

What are my choices?
You can see every approved tool and its privacy policy below. Have a question about a specific program? Send your request to our Director of Parent Relations at wecare@friendshipschools.org. Learn more on the FTC's COPPA page.
